BATTLE TO KEEP NHS MATERNITY SERVICES OPEN

A CAMPAIGNER has vowed to fight to keep maternity services at Maidstone Hospital.

Peter Carroll, the driving force behind the landmark Gurkha rights campaign, has now set his sights on keeping a full service for mums giving birth in the county town.

If current plans go-ahead, Maidstone's consultant-led maternity unit, inpatient services and special baby care unit will be relocated to the new multi-million pound Pembury Hospital when it opens in 2011.

The changes also include a new midwifery birthing centre being built at Maidstone Hospital, where women who are experiencing a low-risk labour can choose to go.

■ BY ANNA WHITE

Mr Carroll, who became a national hero for the role he played alongside actress Joanna Lumley in the Gurkha Justice Campaign, is now calling for people to help him fight to keep the services at Maidstone.

He said: "I believe the overwhelming majority of Maidstone people are against this decision. The consultation has been a sham and local people are rightly furious."

"There is strong statistical evidence that Maidstone needs a full maternity service and we will be making sure that the secretary of state sees this evidence."

Mr Carroll's campaign has already received backing from retired maternity consultant Alan Pentecost, who founded the maternity services at Maidstone in 1974.

Mr Pentecost said: "This decision is immoral. The midwife-led facility remaining at Maidstone will not be able to provide comprehensive pain relief and will not be able to react in the event of an emergency."

"Exposing women in labour to the difficult road journey from Maidstone to Pembury is both unkind and potentially dangerous."

Mr Carroll, who is also the Liberal Democrat parliamentary candidate for Maidstone and Weald, is urging people to join him outside Marks and Spencer, in Week Street, on Saturday

TASTE OF NEPAL IN BUILD-UP TO MELA

Large crowds watched Nepalese dancing while sampling the cuisine of the Himalayan country.

The entertainment put on by Maidstone's Nepalese community filled the bandstand area of Fremlin Walk on Saturday.

Dancer Priya Limbu, 16, pictured, delighted the crowds with traditional routines and there was also a high-kicking tae kwon do demonstration.

The event was part of the run-up to the annual Maidstone Mela on September 12 and 13 in Mote Park, which celebrates diversity through music, food and dance from across the world.

Sculptors bid for community art commission

■ BY JON COATES

THREE artists have been shortlisted to create an £80,000 piece of art to tower over a new community.

More than 60 artists expressed interest in securing the commission which will be sited at Kings Hill, near West Malling.

Andrew Blevins of developers Liberty Property Trust, which is working on the project along with Kent County Council arts development unit, said: "The high interest and calibre of artists expressing an interest reflects the increasing popularity of public art."

The new work will be on a roundabout between Discovery Drive and Beacon Avenue, in a recently developed section of the residential area of Kings Hill.

The shortlisted artists are James Hopkins, Richard Perry and Andy Scott.

Mr Hopkins has proposed a sphere that will assimilate the imagined action of driving and circumnavigating the roundabout.

It will be a reflection of its environment and the panel was attracted to the contemporary design of this artwork and were impressed by the artist's previous work.

Mr Perry proposed a large vertical bronze structure that will complement the roundabout in a contextual way to give a feeling of movement.

The panel was impressed by previous examples of his work and admired his proposed design for an elegant yet powerful artwork.

And Mr Scott has chosen to develop a theme based on the semi-rural and pastoral tranquillity of the area.

In his proposal nature, personified by a stag and a fox, clammers over a reclining figure. He hopes to evoke a notion of the balance of nature within the built environment.

PUBLIC ART: When Spirits Soar, one of the sculptures currently displayed at Kings Hill

The panel was particularly drawn to the imaginative nature of this proposal and its originality and freshness.

Each artist will make a model of their work, which will be on show to the public in September.

The judges will take comments into consideration before making their final decision on the winner in October.

Once commissioned, it is expected that the work will be installed in spring 2010.

The chosen artist will receive up to £80,000 to create and install the design. The fee has been raised from the sale of land for houses at Kings Hill.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Man arrested after drugs raid on homes

POLICE arrested a 22-year-old man after a raid on two houses near Maidstone town centre.

The operation was carried out by Maidstone's Urban Neighbourhood Team after a tip-off that drug dealing had been taking place at the properties in Peel Street.

The team arrested the man on suspicion of drug offences after a quantity of what is believed to be herbal cannabis and amphetamine was seized. He was being quizzed at Maidstone Police Station.

To report information regarding drugs supply, call the urban neighbourhood team on 01622 604391, or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Police rail office burglary on CCTV

TEEN burglars broke into a railway police office and made off with a number of items.

The three teenagers – two boys and one girl – were caught on CCTV forcing open the door of the building at Harrietsham station, in the early hours of Tuesday, June 16.

PC Andrew Devereese, of the British Transport Police, said: "Most of the stolen items were recovered nearby but some are still missing, including a badge given to the officers by the South Australian Police."

Anyone with information should call 0800 40 50 40 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111. To see the CCTV images go to www.yourmaidstone.co.uk.

County town's worst road safety record

THE county town has the worst road safety record in Kent, according to new figures.

Council chiefs are to discuss how to reverse this worrying trend, highlighted in a report, Fit for the Road, which was launched at a road safety event outside County Hall on Monday last week.

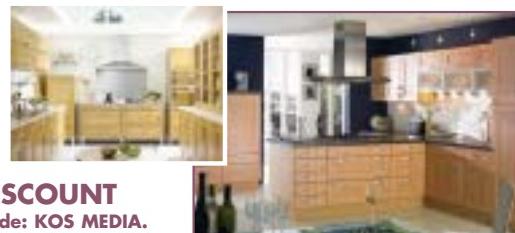

Maidstone Mayor Peter Parvin attended the event where visitors were able to experience a road accident using a crash test machine and motorists could find out how fit they are to drive.

Rude awakenings with three-day crackdown

■ BY ANNA WHITE

SIX people were arrested during a three-day police operation to crackdown on illegal drugs and stolen goods in the Paddock Wood area.

Neighbourhood police teams executed five early morning warrants between Wednesday and Friday at residential and commercial premises.

On the first day, a 20-year-old man was arrested at a house in Maidstone Road, on suspicion of cultivation of cannabis, and was later cautioned.

Also on Wednesday, officers arrested a man in his 40s in a pub in Church Road, on suspicion of theft and fraud offences relating to counterfeit currency.

The man was later cautioned and officers seized what are believed to be stolen goods.

On Thursday, the officers returned to Maidstone Road and arrested a man and woman, both in their 40s, and another man in his 20s, on suspicion of possession with intent to supply class A drugs. All three have since been bailed while the investigation continues.

Officers also raided a house in Ewings Close but no arrests were made, and searched a nearby shop.

HARD KNOCK: Officers force open a door

On the final day of the operation, the team executed a warrant at a home in Queen's Street and arrested a man in his 40s on suspicion of handling stolen goods.

Police seized property and cash from the address. He was being questioned in police custody.

More than 20 officers took part in the operations, including officers from the police neighbourhood team, the neighbourhood task team, dog handlers with specialist drugs dogs, and a licensing officer.

To ensure residents were able to ask questions about the operation the neighbourhood team set up a mobile police station.

Neighbourhood officer Sgt Ray Masters said: "The operation was very much about reacting to information people were giving us about criminal activity and the supply of drugs in the town."

"The neighbourhood team will take action when they receive information about what is happening in the community."

"The majority of people who live in Paddock Wood are keen to keep this a nice place and don't want to be associated with criminality."

"We are going to carry on with operations like this to do all we can to keep the town the place people want it to be."

Paddock Wood is covered by the Tunbridge Wells rural neighbourhood policing team, which can be contacted on 01892 502143.

QUICK RESPONSE: Officers move in at Paddock Wood

'If you care you'll get behind us'

at 11am, to launch the Full Maternity at Maidstone campaign.

He will also be writing to more than 20,000 women in the county town to ask them to write to the secretary of state to show their support for the campaign.

Mr Carroll, who runs a haulage firm in Larkfield, added: "I know from my experience of The Gurkha Justice Campaign that every single petition signature, email, letter really does count. I urge everyone who cares about maternity in Maidstone to get behind us."

A Maidstone and Tunbridge Wells NHS Trust spokesman said: "It is important to stress that the vast majority of women's and children's services will remain at Maidstone."

"These will include all existing outpatient services, antenatal and day case surgery, plus a new midwifery led birthing unit."

"The changes being made in 2011 will raise standards of care for women and children considerably, but we recognise people's concerns and are happy to discuss the proposals with Peter Carroll or anyone else."

Crimewatch's Rav is Strictly dancer

CRIMEWATCH UK presenter Rav Wilding has been revealed as one of the contestants for the next series of BBC TV's Strictly Come Dancing.

Mr Wilding, who was born in Canterbury and now lives in Maidstone, has been paired with the show's new professional dancer, Aliona Vilani.

Talking to the BBC, he said: "I've taken part in Strictly Come Dancing this year because I love a good challenge and love learning new skills, so this is really exciting for me."

Dancing is completely alien to me as I have never even set foot on a dance floor in my life.

"I don't drink now, so I can't even claim to have drunkenly staggered onto a dance floor in recent years."

Mr Wilding has presented Crimewatch since 2004 and up until 2008 he also worked as a detective constable for the Metropolitan Police, but took a sabbatical to focus on television work.

He continues to present Crimewatch with Kirsty Young and Matthew Amroliwala, but is also a regular crime reporter on the BBC's One Show.

He will be competing on the dance floor with 15 other celebrity contestants.

HOTFOOT: Rav Wilding with Aliona Vilani

The full line-up features Mr Wilding, Footballers' Wives actresses Zoe Lucker and Laila Rouass, former EastEnders Natalie Cassidy and Ricky Groves, Loose Women regular Lynda Bellingham, BBC Breakfast presenter Chris Ollins, Hollyoaks actor Ricky Whittle, Ali Bastian from The Bill, Coronation Street's Craig Kelly, and Jo Wood, the estranged wife of Rolling Stone's guitarist Ronnie Wood.

Representing the world of sport on the show are jockey Richard Dunwoody, boxer Joe Calzaghe, cricketer Phil Tufnell, tennis ace Martina Hingis and Olympic athlete Jade Johnson.

Ecology drive for no-car motorists

SHOPPERS and workers ditched their cars on Friday to support Maidstone Goes Green Week and received a free breakfast for their efforts.

Last week Maidstone Town Centre Management encouraged everyone to be more environmentally-friendly through green-inspired events.

To bring the week to an end on Friday, the team hosted its second In Town Without My Car Day, where people were urged to choose another way of getting into the town centre.

County council travel team leader Graham Tanner said: "Hopefully people will try not coming into town with their cars, then make the switch and keep doing it."

Oxfam manager Matthew Fray travelled in by bus from Chatham. He said: "I think it's a really good idea and if it helps the environment, even better. It has 100 per cent support from me."

Man claims taunts led to brutal attack

VICIOUS drunk John Flack beat up his wife, watched by a group of children, a court was told.

Flack of Tyler Hill, Bleasdale, repeatedly punched his wife Nicola and tried to smother her with a pillow.

Canterbury magistrates heard Flack was supposed to go to a birthday party but decided to stay at home. He was given £10 to spend on anti-depressants but spent the cash on vodka instead.

Julie Farbrace, prosecuting, said when Nicola got home, Flack slammed her against a wall and grabbed her by the throat. Later he pushed her on to a sofa and tried to smother her. One of the children called police.

Flack, 36, is already subject to a two-year community order imposed for a similar attack last year. He told police he suspected his wife was having an affair and she taunted him about it.

He admitted the attack and the case was adjourned until September 17.

Brits abroad 'an embarrassment'

MORE than eight out of ten people from Kent said in a survey they were embarrassed by the behaviour of Brits abroad.

This summer has seen reports of British revellers urinating against a historical monument in Latvia's capital Riga, and a teenager expelled from Turkey for exposing himself and swearing at a statue of the nation's founder.

Foreign Office figures published this week revealed that alcohol contributed to many of the 6,919 arrests and 3,146 hospitalisations of Britons worldwide between April 2008 and March this year.

CAMRA says no to beer in plastic cups

THE Campaign for Real Ale (CAMRA) in Kent wants to save the traditional beer glass.

The Home Office has commissioned designers to transform the traditional glass into a shatter-proof holder in an effort to combat the 5,500 reported cases of attacks where glasses and bottles are used as weapons each year.

But CAMRA regional director Kae Mendham said: "There are some very good plastic alternatives that fit in a hand the same way a glass does."

"But we would not want total coverage of plastic holders. If you stay inside the premises and drink, it should be out of a glass. It's traditional."

Working to change lives for the better

TODAY marks the beginning of a series of articles taking a behind-the-scenes look at Kent Police.

For every crime there is a victim and for every incident attended by one of our 3,640 police officers, there are repercussions that need to be addressed.

Our police officers are responsible for protecting 1.65 million people in Kent and Medway.

We intend to look behind the headlines and discover the challenges they face.

We will meet people whose lives have changed due to the drug menace and look at how Kent Police have helped rebuild their lives – and chase the menace from our streets.

We will find out how some of the £257 million a year of taxpayers' money is spent, which will help you have a greater understanding of what goes on and why Kent is one of the safest places in the UK.

We will find out some of the measures that are in place to prevent crime and discover some of the technology which is used to make all of our lives safer.

And we will give you the chance to put questions to our Chief Constable Michael Fuller, who has laid out targets for improvement over the next three years.

He said: "There have been significant improvements in our performance over the last two years, which have ensured Kent and Medway remain among the safest places in the country."

Chief Constable Fuller wants our police force to be seen as the best in Britain.

"Our ambition is not only to improve the service we deliver to residents, but to provide an unrivalled service compared to other forces."

Targets include reducing crime and anti-social behaviour and ensuring a high detection rate. A key target is to increase visibility of police officers, to see that public confidence continues to improve and to ensure victims of crime are properly dealt with.

Read our articles in the coming weeks and make your own mind up.

DEDICATED: Each policing district in Kent will have its own Neighbourhood Task Team to solve problems

Teams move in to stamp out local problems

THE full force of a drive across Kent to crack down on crime and anti-social behaviour is about to be felt.

From this week, 14 Neighbourhood Task Teams will be on the county's streets, tackling the problems residents have identified as priorities.

Kent Police first piloted the Neighbourhood Task Teams at the end of 2007 and in September, 2008, the trial was extended to provide six teams across the county – one in each policing area.

They proved so successful that the number is about to increase to 14, with one team for each district and two for Medway.

Each team has a sergeant and five constables, who will provide a rapid response to community concerns.

Assistant Chief Constable Gary Beaupre said: "Neighbourhood Task Teams have proved a great success since they were introduced, reducing crime wherever they work."

"The new ones mean each police district will have its own dedicated response team that is able to act fast when people highlight problems."

"It's part of our commitment to improve the quality of life for everyone in Kent and make our county an even better place to live."

They will go where their help is most needed, moving into an area to support local officers, tackle offenders and find long-term solutions to concerns raised by residents.

They will concentrate on some of the significant issues, such as criminal damage and anti-social behaviour.

Ann Barnes, chair of the Kent Police Authority, said: "The shift to one team per policing district is good news for residents."

"It is clear from our research that the teams are reducing crime and anti-social behaviour, with knock-on improvements to the quality of life for residents."

The force says the investment is worth every penny because of the amazing results the teams bring.

The recent use of a Neighbourhood Task Team resulted in a 26 per cent reduction in anti-social behaviour calls and a 40 per cent reduction in recorded criminal damage. The team's visit also resulted in more than 30 arrests.

A survey following their use showed 91 per cent of those questioned felt more confident in the police, compared to 73 per cent before the team arrived.

Solutions

Insp Bill Willis, who is in charge of the teams, said: "What makes us unique is that we are the only force to have these teams at a district level and with this scale of staffing."

"A team can go into an area where there is anti-social behaviour and over a period of time solve the problem and deal with offenders. It's about finding long-term solutions."

The police work with local authorities and other partners to decide where the task teams should be sent, acting in response to problems identified by local people, and they can be moved in very quickly.

Assistant Chief Constable Gary Beaupre added: "It's a simple philosophy – You said, We did."

Speed recruiting session a big hit with employers

FIRST it was all about finding love and fast.

Now employers are following in the footsteps of speed dating with what has been dubbed 'speed recruiting'.

A training firm tried the recruitment experiment in Ramsgate recently, and as a result 11 people found employment.

In the trial saw six employers saw about 30 job applicants in five-minute interviews.

Once a job-seeker has finished one meeting they move round the room to the next employer and at the end of the session those who have made a good impression are offered a follow-up job interview.

The pioneering scheme, run by the company TNG, aims to help people who have problems getting back to work, including single parents, ex-offenders and the long-term unemployed.

All the applicants enrolled on a pre-employment training programme, run by the Ramsgate firm, which helps them to prepare CVs and approach interviews.

Among the firms at the first session were retail outlet Matalan and double-glazing company Piper Windows.

Louise Hampton, 29, from Ramsgate, found a job after three years unemployed.

She said: "It was a great experience. Now I'm working at Matalan and I love my job."

Heidi Griffin, TNG operations manager for Kent, said: "These events give our learners a chance to practise their interview techniques in real situations."

Claire Weare, store manager at Matalan said: "TNG supplied a good volume of good quality candidates.

"It saved us a lot of time scouring CVs, and making managers available for lots of interviews.

"We have employed five people as a result of the events and think it's a great way of finding new employees."

THIN: The labrador-lurcher cross found in Maidstone

Walker finds starving dog in county town

A STARVING dog has been handed into the RSPCA after he was found wandering the streets of the county town.

The shockingly-thin golden dog, which is believed to be a labrador-lurcher cross, was found by a walker in Vinters Valley, off New Cut Road, in Maidstone, on Saturday, August 22.

The walker took the dog, who is called Roley, to the Leybourne RSPCA animal centre.

RSPCA Inspector Miranda Albinson said: "We would like to try and find the owner of this dog."

"Hopefully somebody may recognise the dog or collar."

"The vet believes that this dog is around six to eight years old. He was in an absolutely appalling condition, so thin and weak."

The starving dog was wearing a fake, black leather collar with small diamante bows, and a blue bow-shaped tag with his name on it.

Anyone with information is asked to contact the RSPCA on 0300 123 4999.

QUESTION & ANSWER

LEWIS HAMILTON

Q & A

He will be at Brands Hatch on Sunday for the British round of the German Touring Car Championship (DTM) and today Formula One World Champion Lewis Hamilton talks about the racing and meeting his fans

Q What do you think about the DTM (the German Touring Car Championship)?

A DTM is really fantastic! I was involved with the DTM when I competed in the F3 Euro Series supporting races back in 2004 and 2005. DTM racing is always pretty exciting, and the atmosphere is open and welcoming. In 2008 I also had time to visit the DTM race at Brands Hatch and to support my Mercedes-Benz colleagues – it was a great event. The drivers get close to the fans, as they can buy tickets for the paddock. There is always something happening on and off the track, it is definitely worth coming down for the day.

Q Will the Brands Hatch Indy circuit be challenging for the DTM drivers?

A Definitely, it is a great track and they get to race 93 laps of the shorter Indy circuit. There is so much going on during a lap of the track because it is so short with so much packed into it that the drivers have no time at all to relax. I can always remember thinking the lap at Brands is over so quickly... the drivers will have to be very fit to stay focused in those hot DTM cockpits for 93 laps!

Q Have you ever raced in Formula 3 at Brands Hatch?

A I competed in a couple of races at the end of the 2003 season in the British F3 series at Brands Hatch, after I had won the Formula Renault title that year. Racing through Druids in a F3 car was just awesome. Other sections of the track, such as when you go up the hill to Paddock Hill Bend are also fantastic, you can't see the corner and then when you plunge down-hill on the exit, you hit this enormous compression. It is unlike any other track I have raced on. When I was in the F3 Euro Series, it didn't support the DTM at Brands Hatch, which was a shame. But with the British F3 races and the three victories I took at the track in Formula Renault in 2002 and 2003.

Q Do you know any of the DTM drivers personally?

A I know all of the Mercedes-Benz drivers as we often bump into each other during the year, but of course I know the British drivers that I competed against as we came up through the ranks better. For example, I raced with Susie Stoddart in Formula Renault, we shared the podium a couple of times. When I won my first Formula 3 race in 2004 at the Norisring, I finished just ahead of Jamie Green, the year when he won the Euro Series title. Gary Paffett is my team mate at Vodafone McLaren Mercedes, so we spend a lot of time working together. I used to do fitness training sessions with the Mercedes DTM guys. We are all so competitive; whatever part of the programme we were doing, so running, cycling and so on, we all wanted to win. I can remember the first session I went to, I was so much younger than the DTM guys and was there with legends like Bernd Schneider, I could n't believe it. But after a couple of hours, I soon found my competitive streak!

Q Which of the DTM drivers will be your favourite at Brands Hatch?

A I'll be supporting all the Mercedes-Benz DTM drivers, however a victory for a British driver in front of their home crowd would be fantastic so I'll be cheering on Paul, Jamie, Gary and Susie. I was fortunate to experience winning my home race in front of my home crowd at Silverstone in 2008, the atmosphere was something else, so it would be great to see that happen again at Brands Hatch.

Q Will you be available for the fans during the Sunday race day?

A Absolutely. Events like this give me the opportunity to spend time meeting fans and signing autographs. I am never able to sign as many as I would like, but I promise I do try! It is very important to me to have the chance to do this as the support I get from the fans is incredible and you must never take that for granted. I think I will be in the exhibition area (the paddock) for an interview on Sunday morning.

• Tickets for DTM Brands Hatch on September 4/5/6 cost from £25 for adults, children aged 12 and under is free. You will require a pit/paddock pass in order to see Lewis' interview on Sunday morning. For more information call 0870 950 9000 or visit www.dtmbrandshatch.com.

Withnail fan Tim buys Uncle Monty's cottage

CROW CRAG: Canterbury architect Tim Ellis, inset, is the new owner of Sleddale Hall, which features in cult movie Withnail & I, starring Richard E Grant and Paul McGann, below

THE Cumbrian cottage which featured in cult film Withnail & I has been snapped up by an architect from Canterbury.

Sleddale Hall, near Shap in the Lake District, was known in the film as Crow Crag, the home of Withnail's Uncle Monty.

It has been bought by Tim Ellis, 41, a conservation architect, for an undisclosed sum.

The building, which has been unoccupied for years, was auctioned in February amid worldwide interest from potential buyers and film fans.

The gavel came down at £265,000, £100,000 more than its starting price. But the sale later fell through and Mr Ellis was contacted to see if he would like a second chance.

"I was rather excited," he said.

Mr Ellis hopes to restore the building as a house, although details remain under wraps while talks are ongoing.

"I first saw the film seven years ago and have been a fan ever since," he said.

"I'd like to restore the building in a way fans of the film would approve of."

"There's a lot of work to be done before I can draw up firm plans, but my intention is not to deprive Sleddale's many admirers of its links with its iconic past."

The film follows Withnail, played by Richard E Grant in his first film role, and Marwood (Paul McGann) two struggling London actors who escape to the country cottage for a holiday.

Help new team put the bite on loan sharks

A COUNTYWIDE clampdown on loan sharks has failed to bring one person to court four months after it started, leading to calls for more victims to come forward.

Kent County Council's trading standards service, the South East Illegal Monday Lending Team and Kent Police joined forces to launch a campaign against loan sharks in April. Four months on there have been no arrests and the partnership is keen to break people's silence on the crime.

Cllr Mike Hill, KCC's cabinet member for communities, said: "We are desperate for information but it is extremely difficult because people are not keen to give information."

Nationally the Stop Loan Sharks project has helped 10,000 victims, written off more than £30 million of illegal debt and secured more than 50 years in prison sentences since it began.

Violence

Last month, John Kiely from Manchester was sentenced to five years for charging poor families interest rates as high as 2,237 per cent on loans. One of his victims, a woman who borrowed £700, has been left on antidepressants and was forced to leave her home because of the intimidation and violence inflicted on her and her family.

In March, Cheshire loan shark Paul Nicholson, who raped, blackmailed and threatened his victims, was jailed indefinitely.

There are examples of people committing suicide because of loan sharks and the highest interest rate discovered was 117,000 per cent.

Cllr Hill said: "In desperation, rather like drug addiction, some people turn to burglary and stealing to pay back their loans."

In response to people struggling to get loans from legitimate sources due to the downturn, KCC is to launch its own credit union in October.

To report a loan shark, call Kent Police or KCC. Or call Stop Loan Shark's confidential 24/7 hotline on 0300 555 2222 and visit www.direct.gov.uk/stoploansharks.

Student 'ghettos' target of council's clampdown

■ BY RACHEL MCATHY

COUNCIL chiefs have backed calls for landlords to face tighter planning controls in a bid to clampdown on so-called 'student ghettos'.

Planning officials at Canterbury council have supported Government proposals to dilute the problems caused by swathes of major towns being rented to students.

In a bid to calm the 'studentification' of the likes of Canterbury – home to the University of Kent and Christ Church University – the Government has proposed landlords should be forced to obtain planning permission for a wider range of properties dubbed 'houses in multiple occupation' or HMOs.

Currently, regulations only apply to houses with six people or more. Canterbury council said residents were increasingly concerned about high student numbers. Issues raised included antisocial behaviour, litter and parking. Some expressed concern about the creation of 'ghost towns' during academic holidays.

After looking at the options during consultations, the council believes regulations are not tough enough to deal with the issue.

Kim Bennett, head of development at the council, said: "There is no doubt that in Canterbury, where the problem is particularly concentrated, there is continuing public concern about the social impact in particular streets or areas."

One of the options is to change the HMO definition to apply to property with three or more occupants, who are not members of the same family. It would then fall under planning laws. This is the council's preferred option, despite the fact it cannot be applied to properties already occupied by students.

CITY LIFE: Students bring many benefits, although parts of Canterbury have become 'ghettos', the council says

But the authority is doubtful its recommendation will be acted on.

"It is unlikely, given that such controls would apply nationally and that the evidence is the problems are concentrated in relatively small areas throughout the UK," Mr Bennett said.

The other option, and the council's fall-back choice, is to remove the requirement for HMOs to seek planning permission.

If there was then a problem locally, the power would fall to planning authorities to prevent development of such properties in particular areas. But Chris Norris, of the National Landlords' Association in the South East, said changing planning laws was not the way forward: "In Canterbury, we have a number of universities and colleges and areas of the city are particularly concentrated, so there is the potential for problems.

"But the issue we have with the proposals is they address the property rather than the behaviour. There are better ways to tackle the behaviour of tenants, rather than slapping a status on a property," he said.

"And we doubt local authorities would be willing to allow that property to be changed back into a residential property later on. It could lead to greater housing shortages."

He said the association wanted councils to use their existing powers more effectively.

Dick Vane-Wright, of South Canterbury Residents' Association, said: "We are aware of problems in parts of the city. But one of our members, who lived on a street where there were problems, engaged with the students rather than complaining.

"They pointed out what sorts of problems the students were creating and it was very successful. We don't just need legislation – we need people to engage with their neighbours."

Record levels of debt on campus

STUDENTS starting degree courses in the county this month will be left with record level of debts totalling £24,000 by the end of their courses, according to latest research.

The figures emerged in a new survey, revealing it is now more costly than ever to enter higher education, fuelling fears that many people are being priced out of attending university. More than 2,000 students were quizzed on their financial outlay for the forthcoming years, with the average debt per year coming in at £5,000, plus £3,000 a year in tuition fees.

Kent has also emerged as one of the most expensive places in the county to study. According to latest research, Canterbury was listed within the top ten costliest cities for students. Average rents were reported as being £72 a week.

Recession

Chatham follows close behind, costing £61 a week, placing a further strain on teenagers' limited budgets. But with a background of recession, admission to universities has been overstretched, despite the costs.

With jobs at a premium, more students are keen to build up their qualifications rather than take the plunge into the employment market at such a troubled time.

President of the Students' Union at the University of Kent, Helen Wood, said the union was working hard to support its student population, which includes campuses around the county.

She said: "Debt is an issue for students and we have a lot going on at the university where we can advise people.

"There's a team of advisers at our Canterbury campus and we also run a Money Doctor service to help students with their finances. I'm certainly glad I did my university course, it had always been my ambition to study and the cost of it didn't put me off."

BREAK TIME

A-grade success for hard working boys

TOP performing students at a Maidstone grammar school were all smiles when they received their GCSE results.

The year 11 boys at Oakwood Park Grammar School got their results on Thursday morning.

Among those celebrating were a number of pupils with outstanding results, including Alex Caine, 16, from Barming, who scored ten A*'s and one A.

Fellow student Robert Hollands also achieved ten A*'s and one A.

Tolulope Akanbi-Onasanya, Thomas Crickmore, Daniel Crittenden and Michael Turner both got eight A*'s.

Headteacher Kevin Moody said: "I am thrilled with these results."

Results break all the records, again

PUPILS at Wrotham School celebrated record-breaking GCSE results.

The results released on Thursday showed 83 per cent of students at the school in Wrotham had achieved five A* to C GCSE grades.

The school also achieved a record 102 grade A and A*, which was almost double the number of top grades than in 2008.

The marks mean the school has beaten its best GCSE achievement for the third year running.

Headteacher David Day said: "This is a monumental day."

Top achievers were Samantha Payne with ten A or A*'s, Matt Haley with nine, Zoe Gillard eight, and Lucy Crighton, Jason Kohler and Tom Barton with seven.

Outstanding achievements by some outstanding girls

■ BY ANNA WHITE

GIRLS at a top grammar school were celebrating after getting excellent GCSE results.

The pupils at Maidstone Girls Grammar School, in Buckland Road, tore open the brown envelopes containing their results in front of friends and teachers on Thursday morning.

The hardworking youngsters were ecstatic to find they had achieved top results and that more than half of the year group have received at least five A* or A grades.

Out of the entire year, 47 students achieved at least ten A* or A grades. Overall 57 per cent of all grades were A*'s or As.

Sarah Piggott, 16, from Bearsted, gained five A*'s and seven As, she said: "I was so nervous about coming to get my results today.

"I haven't been able to sleep for the past three nights because I have been so nervous and excited.

"I just feel so happy and relieved. I am really pleased with my results and looking forward to starting sixth form in September."

Lydia Payle, also 16 and from Bearsted, said: "I got four A*'s and five As, so I am really happy. I had to work really hard for the exams so I'm pleased it all paid off."

Headteacher Mary Smith said: "This is an outstanding set of results for the school in the year when Ofsted has judged the school as 'outstanding'.

"We are thrilled for our students. Watching their joy as they open their results envelopes is immensely rewarding.

"I would like to congratulate all our students

Picture: ANNA WHITE

HARD WORK PAYS OFF: Lydia Payle, Sarah Piggott and Hannah Lloyd are all thrilled with their outstanding results and also the staff who work so hard for them."

Mrs Smith added that the majority of the students have taken-up places to the school's sixth form to study A-levels.

She added: "I am extremely pleased for all the students, they have worked so hard to achieve this, and it is great that most of them will be continuing their hard work in our sixth form."

Gary Wright in praise of the policeman who dared to say what most people thought anyway about CCTV

Well done to the police officer who admits CCTV doesn't help

SO, a top policeman admits what we all actually feared: CCTV cameras don't really work.

Mick Neville, a Detective Chief Inspector with the Met, said for every 1,000 cameras in Britain, one crime gets solved. Just one crime.

There are a lot of cameras mind – about a million of them in London alone says DCI Neville. That works out one camera for every eight residents, which seems a little extreme.

Our government has spent half a billion pounds on CCTV, seeing it as a catch-all protector for the law-abiding majority. Our local councils – who should really be sweeping the streets and collecting rubbish – can't get enough of them either. But what's the point?

Britain is recognised around the world as being the most spied on. In London it's calculated that the average person gets filmed by 300 different cameras every day.

Wherever you are these days the chances are you are being filmed. It got out of hand about 15 years ago as too many people in power saw CCTV cameras as a cheap and easy way to make us feel safe. In fact for most of us it doesn't do any such thing.

You see the problem is someone in a distant control room has to monitor the images... and you have to wonder what sort of person WANTS a job like that.

Over the years as a journalist I've lost count of the number of complaints to newspapers (normally from women) about cameras possibly being misused by camera operators.

And when something interesting does happen, all too often the control room misses it anyway (probably because they're gazing through bedroom windows).

I'll agree that some CCTV films can be pretty interesting (and funny), especially now they are in such good quality colour.

There are almost a dozen satellite TV channels which would probably disappear if they couldn't rely on a regular supply of CCTV footage showing ordinary people doing extraordinary things.

But for every street mugger who is spotted on town centre CCTV (and subsequently escapes) or a car that accidentally drives through a plate glass shop window, there seems to me a tale of woe, like the homeless fella in Ashford last year who died while he was being filmed by CCTV, and no one noticed for hours.

Surely the answer is simple: Put a stop to using CCTV as a knee-jerk reaction to perceived threat, which at least one respected police officer believes doesn't work anyway, before we are stuck in a Big Brother-style state.

The spread of speed cameras at roadsides throughout the UK seems to have been halted in some areas the limitations were realised, you see not everyone's convinced they prevent crashes.

(And have you noticed how the number of fines has dropped dramatically since operators were told a year ago they couldn't keep the cash?)

So, let's reach the same clear-thinking with CCTV cameras. Use them where they are tried and tested, but give us more police officers in neighbourhoods to help prevent crime which is proven to work... and there are signs it is already happening (see page 4).

COLDPLAY

WEMBLEY
STADIUM

COLDPLAY's Wembley Stadium gigs in September are already sold out, but KOS Media has a pair of tickets to ensure you don't miss out.

As part of their 2009 summer tour the band are due at the stadium on Friday and Saturday, September 18-19 in what will be the band's biggest ever UK headline shows.

It has been announced Coldplay will now be supported by Girls Aloud and Jay Z on both dates at Wembley Stadium.

The acts had previously only been booked to each play one of the two dates at the London venue, but will now share the support bill.

Coldplay's website also said London rockers White Lies would be providing additional support at both shows.

The band's UK leg of their tour begins on Saturday, September 12, in Manchester. The tour, which began in Florida in May, finishes at Wembley Stadium with these two sold out gigs.

Coldplay announced earlier last month they would give away CDs of their new live album LeftRightLeftRight at every remaining live show in 2009, as well as making it available as a free download from their website.

To be in with a chance of winning a pair of tickets to the Saturday show, answer this question:

Which month is Coldplay playing at Wembley Stadium?

a) September b) October c) December

To enter, simply text your answer either 'win A' 'win B' or 'win C' to 80012.

Entrants must put 'Win' before either the winning answer A,B or C.

The text line closes on the September 14, 2009, and the winner will be notified by September 15, 2009. Messages cost 50p. No purchase necessary.

For full terms and conditions see www.kent-news.co.uk or call 01303 817073.

TALK TIME

ROBERT IRWIN

Kent firefighters are available to carry out safety checks in people's homes, which are free to all and can give advice and help which save lives

How are you putting your safety message across to people?

We are in the process of attending public events such as this one in Sittingbourne, a children's day that encourages families to come along. We bring along a display which highlights what we are trying to achieve with our Home Safety visits.

How do these work?

Well, we get quite a lot of interest at an event like this for instance, so people will ask us to come along and check how safe their homes are. We also check the smoke detectors they have in the house and will replace them if necessary. This service is completely free and we also provide batteries which have a ten year lifespan.

Smoke detectors are vital aren't they?

Yes, they are, they can really be lifesavers.

How can people request such a visit?

They can call us on the number 0800 923 7000 or call in to the central headquarters in Maidstone. Alternatively they can just go along to their nearest fire station and put in a request which we will be happy to comply with.

Where do you operate?

All over the county, it doesn't matter where people live. Anyone in Kent can request a visit.

YOUR LETTERS

Services are going down the toilet

I am saddened and angered by this news of proposed public toilet closures.

I have a bowel problem and have to plan journeys according to toilet availability.

Life is difficult enough for so many of us. What kind of people are they, that they would take away such a basic human need?

Caroline Rivers, from Maidstone, comment posted on web story at www.yourmaidstone.co.uk

Sack bureaucrats then we'll be flush

I think it is ridiculous to even consider closing public toilets.

Surely shutting public conveniences will just lead to more people urinating against trees or against walls in alleyways, which is unhygienic and not very pleasant to see.

If our council tax cannot pay for public loos – which are a public service – what are they for?

Why not get rid of a few bureaucrats and use the money to give us nice well-kept toilets.

Train prices are just not fare

I completely agree. Southeastern is a joke, the off peak tickets are scandalously expensive – just compare them to Southern (which is owned by the same company but managed by someone with a better understanding of economics!).

The peak trains are overcrowded, always late (no matter what their fudged figures state) and we are paying 15 to 30 per cent of our take home pay to use this monopoly service.

We have no choice and no one cares, they continue to fleece us because they know they can. Arrrggghhh!!!

When is Kent on track for reduction?

The issue about rail fares is one that continues to frustrate and annoy.

At a time when successive Government initiatives all say that people should get on public transport and leave their cars at home we hear that the local network will not have to reduce its fares.

This is absurd as it is one of the most profitable in the country. Commuters in Kent must account for a massive amount of revenue.

If those in power are serious about getting more people on to the trains they should make them more cost effective.

This it seems they are doing elsewhere but not in Kent.

Government promise went off the rails

As news that Southeastern is exempt from next year's cuts in rail fares came in, investment bank UBS revealed that British rail fares are the highest in the world.

This means Kent and Medway are hit twice – once by missing out on a fares cut and again by the UK's excessive rail fares.

So now it's official, we have the highest rail fares in the world.

And in Kent we will not even benefit by the rail fares cut caused by the drop in inflation.

The botched privatisation of our railways has not brought the consumer benefits we were promised.

Kent's traffic congestion is a testament to the high cost of rail (and bus) fares and a general failure to cut greenhouse gas emissions.

We desperately need a new Kent Local Transport Plan to cut congestion and air pollution.

It should focus on creating a road user hierarchy – walking, cycling, buses, first to encourage more people to use their cars less.

But for a lot of journeys, cheaper rail services are essential.

More than ten years of talk by the Government about 'sustainable' transport has been accompanied by under-investment in our railways.

It is possible to move people and goods without putting more carbon into our atmosphere.

Joined-up investment is needed from the Government, Medway Council and Kent County Council, not more roads.

A healthy interest in the Great South Run

I am writing to let your readers know that we still have places in the Great South Run this year.

Taking place on October 25, the ten-mile course is suitable whether you have been running for some time or a beginner looking to take on a new challenge.

It is also a great way to raise money for World Cancer Research Fund (WCRF).

Scientists estimate that about a third of the most common cancers could be prevented by being physically active, following a healthy diet and maintaining a healthy weight.

So not only will training for and taking part in the Great South Run help you can get into the kind of habits that can reduce your own cancer risk, but the money raised will help us continue to fund research into the link between lifestyle and cancer.

If you are interested in taking part in this year's Great South Run, visit www.wcrf-uk.org/fundraising or call 0207 343 4200.

Do hurry, because places are going fast!

You can help save endangered animals

Volunteers are needed to help Earthwatch scientists save leatherback sea turtles from extinction at one of the most important remaining nesting beaches in the world.

In Las Baulas National Park, Guanacaste province, Costa Rica, you will monitor nesting leatherbacks, measure and tag them, record nest locations and count eggs.

Spaces are available on nine-day teams on Costa Rican Sea Turtles from October 2009 to February 2010, costing £1,425.

We also need volunteers in the Peruvian Amazon to help conserve pink dolphins, giant river otters, monkeys, turtles and other wildlife.

Spaces are available on 15-day teams on Amazon Riverboat Exploration in September, November and December 2009, costing £1,895-£1,995.

Getting involved in hands-on conservation in some of the most beautiful and remote parts of the planet is a fantastic opportunity for anyone wanting to make a difference and help protect wildlife.

THE streets of Faversham will be alive with the sound of music and revelry at the 19th annual International Hop Festival.

As a celebration of the hop harvest, the festival has become an enormously popular event in Kent and attracts performers from all over the country.

A truly international festival, this year it welcomes performances by foreign acts including Belgium folk-rock band, Folia. Audiences can also look forward to festival favourites, The Blue Devils, who will be joined by Steeleye Span's Liam Genockey on drums.

Another highlight will be The Prague Castle Orchestra, who were actually performing outside Prague's castle when asked if they would like to visit the UK.

Free music can be enjoyed on live stages and in pubs throughout the town, while Faversham's streets will be thronging with outdoor entertainers, attractions and children's activities. Shoppers might find some bargains on the many craft stalls that will line Preston Street, West Street, East Street and Market Place, selling everything from pottery and ethnic clothing to books and toys.

Organised by the Faversham Hop Festival Committee and supported by Swale council, the festival boasts live music stages in Preston Street and outside the Guildhall. People will have the chance to kick up their heels at the ceilidh, browse the craft fair at the Alexander Centre and enjoy music to please an eclectic variety of tastes.

Festival-goers can look forward to being entertained by stilt walkers and Morris sides, while the atmospheric smell of hops lingers in the air and provides an indelible connection with the area's agricultural heritage.

The event celebrates the tradition of hop picking which, in its heyday, attracted thousands of Londoners to Kent for the hop harvest.

Generations of families would often return to the same farm year after year, joining forces with local workers to create a giant agricultural workforce.

Hop pickers enjoyed a rare camaraderie as they laboured, exchanging songs and stories while they worked. The day's hard labour would be followed by drinking, music and games as they relaxed in the evenings.

Full festival listings can be found in the programmes which are available from pubs and retail outlets across the town, priced at £1.

PLANT TO PLATE FOOD FESTIVAL

Saturday, September 5 and Sunday, September 6
Leeds Castle, near Maidstone

GET a taste of the best local produce at Leeds Castle's Plant to Plate Food Festival.

Visitors will be able to sample the delicious foods produced in the Garden of England and find out more about what is on offer from local businesses. Taking place on the castle's beautiful Cedar Lawn, the festival provides a chance for people to taste a wide variety of food and drink.

Learn to improve your skills in the kitchen with the cookery demonstrations and pick up some top tips from the experts. Leeds Castle's own caterers, Leith's, will show spectators how to prepare the perfect paella.

Anyone who is keen to grow their own produce can get advice about home-growing and there will be plenty to do between demonstrations. Visitors can browse the stalls offering a wide selection of breads, organic meats, cheeses, cakes and preserves, many of which have been produced locally. Live music will help to make the event go with a swing and contribute to the alfresco picnic atmosphere.

KIM RICHEY

Monday, September 7
The Loft, Maidstone

EXPERIENCE the critically-acclaimed sound of Kim Richey when she returns to Maidstone next week.

A gifted singer-songwriter, Richey's music has not achieved the commercial success it deserves, but she has consistently received high praise for her six albums. She made a name for herself as a songwriter for country artists such as Radney Foster, Trisha Yearwood and George Ducas, but has also pursued a solo career in her own right.

A couple of years ago, Richey moved to London to do some co-writing and now has songs waiting to be recorded by singers like Ronan Keating. She has also worked with Giles Martin, son of Beatles producer George Martin, on her latest album, Chinese Boxes.

Her special guest will be singer-songwriter Martha Scanlan, a city girl born-and-bred who impulsively moved to East Tennessee to be closer to the Appalachian music she loved. She combines her beautiful voice with clever lyrics and brings the sound of America's wide open spaces to any audience.

The concert starts at 7.45pm and tickets cost £14/£12. To book call Maverick on 01622 744481.

DOLCE VITA

Thursday, September 3
Trinity Theatre, Tunbridge Wells

AN UNUSUAL love story is played out against the backdrop of the circus in new play, Dolce Via.

Inspired by the films of Federico Fellini and Charlie Chaplin, Dolce Via is a 'tour de force' that will sweep the audience up with its thrilling display of circus skills. But it also celebrates the simple art of storytelling with a tale of love and forgiveness.

As top billing on the variety circuit, the Great Tourrinos loved their life on the road until tragedy struck one dreadful night. Years later, they are reunited for just one evening to entertain the crowd with their performance skills and their memories.

The show stars Chris Barnes and writer Siobhan Nicholas, who has many stage and screen credits as

Forum lines up winter gigs

■ BY SIMON ROBINSON

ON paper, the Tunbridge Wells Forum makes an unlikely venue for all things rock and roll.

First things first, The Forum is situated in well-to-do Tunbridge Wells, where the average house price costs more than the debt of a third world country.

Blood, sweat and tears indie rock doesn't sit comfortably with the area's middle-class money.

Secondly, The Forum is a thatch roof away from a rural barn.

Its hilltop location says 'weekend break' rather than gig-of-your-life.

And yet The Forum is arguably one of Kent's foremost music venues.

The likes of Green Day, Coldplay, The Libertines, Oasis, Muse, Placebo and Stereophonics are among the greats to have graced its stage.

Heck, even Toploader played there. Toploader. Remember 'Dancing in the Moonlight'? Yeah, Toploader.

The venue has lined up a number of bands

COMING TO A FORUM NEAR YOU: (Top, from left)

Sonic Boom; The Holloways; (above) The Cheek

hoping to follow in the footsteps of those '90s heavyweights (Toploader excluded) and make the big time.

These hopefuls include Sheffield-based folk/pop duet Slow Club, Manchester punk/rock upstarts The Sonic Boom Six and cheeky indie stars The Cheek.

November sees The Holloways come to town. The London quartet – famed for hits such as Two Left Feet and Generator – thought they were on the road to fame and fortune in 2007, but a label meltdown and loss of two band members derailed their efforts for a year.

Now they're back and once again hoping to take over the world with their radio-friendly sing-along indie tracks.

MAIDSTONE SHOPPING

Sign up to meet some stars with new books

BIG names from the worlds of comedy and cookery will be appearing at Waterstone's this week.

At 2.30pm on Saturday, Charlie Higson of Fast Show fame visits the store at Bluewater to sign copies of his new children's horror book, The Enemy.

On Tuesday celebrity chef and Saturday Kitchen presenter, James Martin, will sign copies of his new book, My Kitchen, from 5pm. For more information call the store on 01322 624831.

Raise a glass to wines from around the world

EMBARK on a round the world adventure via the taste buds at Waitrose.

Customers are being encouraged to be more adventurous during the Waitrose World of Wine Showcase. Wine lovers can sample tipplers from popular grape-growing countries as well as more unusual places like Morocco.

There are some special discounts to enjoy on the 48 wines in the promotion, which runs until September 27. See www.waitrose.co.uk or pop in store.

Classy Myleene drops by to launch collection

PICK up some celebrity style tips when Myleene Klass visits Bluewater.

The Marks & Spencer model is touring stores across the country to help launch the company's new Indigo Collection, a range of stylish casual wear for women.

Klass will arrive at Marks & Spencer at 10.30am tomorrow and the style session will begin at 11am.

For more information about this and other Bluewater events visit the website www.bluewater.co.uk.

Want the look for less? Then take a look online

BEAT the credit crunch by snapping up salon quality hair and beauty products online.

Discount website www.wantthelook.com offers top brands for reduced prices, including considerable savings on brands such as Aveda, Dermalogica, Paul Mitchell and L'Oréal Serie Expert.

At the time of writing, the site was offering a 40 per cent discount on all TIGI hair products.

See www.wantthelook.com.

Protect your pet for a snip with supermarket

FOUR-LEGGED friends can be insured for less with Sainsbury's current pet insurance offer.

New customers can get three months' cover for free and a further 20 per cent online discount.

Plus, a £30 Sainsbury's voucher is also up for grabs when choosing a particular insurance option.

The offer ends on October 6 and terms and conditions apply. For full details visit the website at www.sainsburys.co.uk.

Tarantino makes history with glourious new film

■ BY ANDY WELCH

WHEN you're a feted, cult film director like Quentin Tarantino, you can do just about anything you like – including playing fast and loose with history.

His much-hyped new movie Inglourious Basterds, set in Nazi-occupied France, does just that and the director/screenwriter admits he had no qualms about it.

"The way I write, there's different roads the characters could go down and when I was writing this movie, I came across some roadblocks, and one of those was history itself," he says, with a high-pitched giggle.

"I was more or less prepared to honour that until I came up against it and I go, 'No, I refuse!'. My characters don't know they're part of history – history hasn't been written yet. They don't know there's things they can't do, there's only action and reaction."

It's ballsy stuff from the man whose last effort, Death Proof, was widely agreed to be underwhelming, with Tarantino readily admitting that project became "derailed".

When we meet at a London hotel, he's nothing if not passionate, becoming more and more animated as he explains the most minute details of his latest movie.

He started writing the screenplay more than a decade ago, but knew it would require something of a superhuman effort to get his sprawling, intricate vision to the screen.

So the Tennessee native decided to work on other things instead, namely Kill Bill and the Grindhouse double-header with Robert Rodriguez.

When Inglourious Basterds was shown at the Cannes Festival earlier this year, he was

A DIRECT APPROACH: Film legend Quentin Tarantino unsurprisingly proud to finally see his hard work on screen.

The story kicks off in Nazi-occupied France, where we're introduced to the suave, charismatic, yet ultimately evil German Colonel Hans Landa (Christoph Waltz), referred to as The Jew Hunter for obvious reasons.

Don't be surprised to see relative unknown Waltz troubling each and every award ceremony come the New Year. His performance is simply outstanding.

The Basterds of the title are a ragtag assortment of Jewish American soldiers – not counting infamous German deserter Hugo Stiglitz who defects to their cause – who have only have one thing on their mind: killing Nazis.

Lieutenant Aldo Raine, played brilliantly by Brad Pitt, leads the titular fighting unit, demanding nothing from his men other than inflicting terror and torture on the opposing forces. And 100 Nazi scalps from each of them.

Being a Tarantino film, several storylines cross over one another, culminating in an all-consuming finale.

VIEW THIS PREVIEW

Anyone who's seen one of Tarantino's earlier films will know he's a fan of liberal violence, and Basterds is no different. His other trademarks are also here, most notably of all, the soundtrack, which juxtaposes the action of World War II with the Ennio Morricone-composed score of the Spaghetti Western classics.

With all his characteristic elements in place, Inglourious Basterds is widely deemed a return to form for the director. The final line of the film has one character saying, "I think this could be my masterpiece". Surely Tarantino wouldn't be that literal?

"I didn't have that line until it came time to say it," he says. "That's just the line he says."

"As for my masterpiece, not to be coy, but it's not for me to say."

YOUR TV REVIEW

■ BY TOM BETTS

SHOOTING STARS

BBC Two, 9pm, Wednesday

THERE was a time, about a decade ago, when everyone knew what you meant if you shouted "erano" or "ovavo" in a silly voice for no apparent reason.

You could even coo down a giant imaginary bird from the skies if you wanted and no one would bat an eyelid. But that was the 1990s and times have changed.

Funny thing is no one seems to have told Vic Reeves and Bob Mortimer that, and the pair have once again returned with Shooting Stars, the off-beat and madcap quiz show.

It gained a huge cult following when it first aired all those years ago.

Granted this is still reasonably funny, and passes half an hour of your midweek viewing rather nicely, but the formula doesn't feel quite as daring as it did back in the days when Loaded, new laddishness, Oasis and Chris Evans seemed to rule the earth.

Many of the key aspects of this show have again returned.

Vic's sleazy leg-rubbing over whichever female guest is the most attractive is back and so is Matt Lucas as George Dawes.

It's surprising he is again behind the drumkit considering the massive success he has enjoyed since first appearing as the giant manchild.

Essentially he is reprising a bit-part role, but the show wouldn't be the same without him.

They must be paying him well.

Ulrika Jonsson is a team captain once again, with eternal grump Jack Dee her opposite number.

He slots in well, in place of outgoing captain Will Self, and Johnny Vegas has also gone, which is good news as he tends to dominate any show he is

DRAB: Vic and Bob's Shooting Stars seems to have lost the spark that made it cult viewing ever part of, whether on good comedy form or not.

It is the blonde former weathergirl who is often the butt of many jokes, though.

The catty remarks at her expense usually get the biggest laughs and it's hard not to wince at times.

I will probably watch this every so often until the end of the run, but it isn't quite so funny anymore and raises more of an occasional titter than an all-out belly-laughs.

On numerous occasions it has been brought back to the screen, but times have changed and this seems less and less mischievous with every passing year.

Vic and Bob, who I was a huge fan of through my teenage years and early 20s, still have a lot to offer – but perhaps it's time this show was put to bed once and for all.

YOUR WEEK'S HOROSCOPE

BY RUSSELL GRANT

AQUARIUS (Jan 21-Feb 19)

OVERDOING it at the gym could soon have you nursing an injury. Take it easy, especially if it's been a while since you've exerted yourself. Be ready to play second fiddle to a bossy expert. Although their attitude is annoying, you need to defer to their superior knowledge.

- To find out more about what the stars have in store call Russell on Aquarius 09067-531762

PISCES (Feb 20-Mar 20)

SOMEONE close may be jealous of the love of your life. It's only natural that they want more of your time, but you need the companionship of someone special. Still, spending quality time alone with them is also important. Changing your look in some way will increase your allure.

- To find out more about what the stars have in store call Russell on Pisces 09067-531763

ARIES (Mar 21-Apr 20)

TRY not to push a man too hard or you could do permanent damage to your relationship. You're better off focusing attention on spiritual pursuits. It's been a long time since you worked on a home improvement project. If you don't have any DIY experience learn from an expert.

- To find out more about what the stars have in store call Russell on Aries 09067-531752

CANCER (Jun 23-Jul 23)

DON'T overanalyse angry feelings. It's only natural you're annoyed with someone who took advantage of you. The question is where are you going to channel these emotions? You could focus your energies on creative pursuits like music, gardening or painting.

- To find out more about what the stars have in store call Russell on Cancer 09067-531755

LIBRA (Sep 24-Oct 23)

YOU'RE so polite and well mannered that others don't take you seriously. A show of aggression may be necessary to make an impression. If you have to threaten one of the more boisterous members of the group, so be it. A medical test gives you hope for the future.

Enjoy wading through paradise

■ BY MELANIE SMITH

AS CLEAR waves lapped over my bare feet, I couldn't help comparing the luscious white sands, whispering palms and gentle sea breezes with the drizzly England I left earlier that morning.

After a short drive from the airport, I was relaxing in the sun of Mexico's Riviera Maya at Thomson's five-star Sensatori Resort, nestled on beautiful Bahia Petempich Beach half-way between Cancun and Playa Del Carmen.

Unpacked and refreshed, I eagerly headed to the hotel's Mojito lounge, and found myself stuck for choice with an extensive menu of 31 different mouth-watering flavours.

The Sensatori concept is part of the big operators' answer to travellers who put together their own holidays online. The facilities are superb, but you only get in with a package bought from an operator.

It's certainly been carefully planned: the resort's 438 suites include air-conditioning, 32-inch plasma TVs, DVD players, hydro-jet Jacuzzis, iPod docking stations and marble bathrooms with showers.

There are 12 categories of room, including swim-up suites (allowing you to enter the pool straight from your room), honeymoon balconies with views overlooking the sea, and presidential suites.

Every age group is catered for, with lazing beds for couples, an adults-only pool with butler service, a kids' area with day care, and even a teen hangout – a club with gaming stations, internet cafe, air hockey and a disco. A kids' programme for under-fives offers all-day care and toy-lending. The resort also has a kids' clu-broom with several activity areas.

HEAVENLY: The perfect blue sea gently laps against stunning white sands at the Sensatori Resort in Mexico

Eager to experience the area, we headed to the Chikin-Ha zip line, just half-an-hour south of nearby Playa del Carmen.

Our guide Riaz, half Mayan, half American, was a fountain of knowledge with great stories about the area. Soon we were walking through the jungle towards the natural waters of the Cenotes (system of underground rivers).

Our adventure headed upwards to the jungle zip lines. Heights normally terrify me, but the beautiful scenery took over as I leapt off and sped down the line.

That evening, we visited the resort's adult-only restaurant, Le Chique, for a 14-course meal. It might sound a lot, but the gourmet dinner, accompanied by five specially-chosen wines, was served in spoonful portions – just enough to get the tastebuds going.

From a creamy truffle croquette and silver quail to a chocolate plate and fruity dessert, every mouthful was an experience.

Next day, we flew in a six-seater plane over the jungle to see the Mayan ruins of Chichen Itza. At around £245, it might sound extravagant, but it's worth the extra pennies.

We reached the site at about 11am, ahead of the crowds. The stone pyramids are fascinating, and our guide explained the various buildings and ancient Mayan traditions.

On our last day, we caught the minibus and drove half-an-hour north to Cancun to enjoy the Jungle Tour.

After four days in this paradise, it was difficult to tear ourselves away. If you want to experience the historical sights and natural beauty of the Yucatan Peninsula, with the added bonus of pampering and luxury, the Sensatori is definitely for you.

Online advertising is boost to web shares

SHARES in property website Rightmove have been performing well and analysts say they expect the trend to continue.

Rightmove shares closed up 80.1 at 508p, a rise of 18.7 per cent, according to the company's half-yearly returns.

Latest figures show that pre-tax profits fell eight per cent to £18.2m, but the company is using the recession to increase market share, with sellers favouring online advertising over more traditional areas to cut costs.

The website registered 3.2 billion page impressions in the first half of the year, up three per cent on a year ago, and next month launches a £1m TV campaign.

The company said it was on course to come close to its 2008 underlying operating profit of £41m, and added it considered property prices to have "bottomed out" and that it would look to increase its prices early in 2010.

Miles Shipsides, commercial director, said: "New instructions are down, and that shortage of supply has underpinned prices. Agents have cut their costs, and the downturn has meant they are reassessing where they get their value."

Ed Williams, managing director, said: he anticipated growth over the second half of the year to exceed market expectations, and hoped to achieve further growth in 2010.

63 per cent rise shown in property building

NEW house building in England has surged in recent months, with figures from the Department for Communities and Local Government showing a 63 per cent quarterly rise in new projects.

During the three months to the end of June work began on 29,980 homes, down nine per cent short when compared to the same period in 2008.

The second quarter of 2009 also saw housing completions increase 24 per cent to an estimated 39,320, compared to the March quarter, up seven per cent from last year.

Private enterprise housing starts leapt 73 per cent in the June quarter, 12 per cent lower than 2008 and completions rose 27 per cent, one per cent up on the same period last year.

On an annual basis housing starts for England continued to decline, totalling 87,190 in the 12 months to the end June, down 41 per cent year-on-year and falling 53 per cent behind the 2005/2006 peak, with 136,140 completions down 16 per cent on the previous twelve months.

'Farmyard' homes reflect county's rural heritage

HILLREED Homes is aiming for a farmyard-style environment in an exclusive community at Kings Hill, West Malling.

Partner Colin Creed has designed the new homes to appeal to astute buyers looking for something totally different.

"We are very excited about this unusual project", says Jo Richards, marketing and corporate manager at Hillreed Homes.

"One of the homes is a replica of the beautiful oast-houses which dot the villages around here, another is a bungalow called The Old Dairy, a rare find in these days when new-build bungalows have been restricted through government directives. In all there are just eleven new homes."

apartments from their site sales office at Greenway, Amber Lane, Kings Hill, and it is here that you can study the plans, layouts and specifications of the new homes at The Farmyard.

Mr Creed said: "It was an exciting challenge and one that I have enjoyed enormously. Over the years I have designed many of the homes we offer in our comprehensive portfolio of house designs but this one has really captured my imagination, particularly as it reflects the local vernacular and ensures that the spirit of Kent is not lost."

The Farmyard is located off the Main Square at Kings Hill, leading off Amber Lane and the properties are all within a gated community.

Firm celebrates success of first year

PHILIP Jarvis Estate Agents is celebrating a first year of trading and says despite the gloom over the market it has made an extremely successful start.

It opened to a backdrop of recession, falling house prices and other estate agents closing all over the county, and the couple behind the company said many people questioned their sanity in opening last September.

But both Philip and Faye Jarvis, owners of the firm, never doubted their ability in making their business work and say they have enjoyed a successful first year.

Mr Jarvis said: "From the moment we opened we have bucked the trend. We sold our first property within the first few weeks and have never looked back."

"We have put the success down to a combination of strong marketing, the prominent location in The Square, in Lenham, hard work and a positive attitude."

Mr Jarvis added that despite the economic downturn the company has never given up on the property market and believes this has rubbed off on both sellers and buyers alike.

He said: "I also feel that both myself and Faye have capitalised on what we feel is an excellent area to sell properties.

"I believe that Lenham and the surrounding area has remained a popular place to live. The fast-speed train from Ashford to London, taking only 37 minutes, further adds to the attraction of the area, which is helping the local property market."

"Furthermore, with interest rates at an all-time low, arguably there has not been a better time to move, especially up the property market with the differential in house prices not having been so small for such a long time."

MOTORS NEWS

Skoda no longer a joke

REMEMBER those old Skoda jokes? Winners like 'What do you call a Skoda with a sunroof? A skip'.

Well, they're high flying and having the last laugh at the VW-owned Czech brand after adding model No5 to the line-up – the Yeti, due in showrooms on September 17, priced from £13,750 with air con as standard.

With 4x4 looks but a more affordable and economical front-wheel drive option too, it should suit buyers attracted to off-roader styling and Skoda's high customer satisfaction and reliability ratings.

Rav has extra drive

TOYOTA'S RAV4 continues to move upmarket, but a midlife facelift for the current model has given something back to fans.

Priced from £18,995, it has gained Toyota's Optimal Drive technology, which delivers more power with lower emissions and consumption.

A front-wheel drive only economy option has also been revived, having been offered on the previous generation RAV, but axed after poor sales.

If prices are too rich, there is Toyota's more affordable junior Tonka toy, the Urban Cruiser (from £14,500), also with two or four-wheel drive.

...and Saab's new 9-5

FINALLY Saab has a new model on the market.

The embattled executive brand, now merged with supercar maker and fellow Swedes at Koenigsegg, has shown a new 9-5 flagship.

According to blurb, it "embodies a new era for Saab", though it is actually a Vauxhall Insignia underneath.

And there is the rub for a once distinctive brand: it will take time – possibly too much – for Saab to recreate its individualism after an era as just another General Motors brand. Good luck anyway.

GRAND DESIGN: The stylish Grande Punto Sporting looks set to be another winner for Italian giant Fiat, following hot on the heels of its hugely successful 500 supermini Giugiaro, who also created the Uno, Panda, the original VW Golf and the Alfasud amongst many others, including supercars.

A 'Giugiaro' badge on the Punto's flank rightly gives credit for a design that echoes sports cars at the front, delivers a stylish upward window line to the side – without condemning those in the back to claustrophobia – a spacious cabin and a neat yet practical rear end, with the lights raised above minor shunts.

It wears bold colours beautifully; the banana yellow test car turned heads for the right reason and was a racy 1.4 16v T-Jet 120PS (138bhp) Sporting three-door, looking good value at £12,755 with the standard Punto five-year warranty, even before discounts.

This version also delivers big bangs for modest bucks and the car's small capacity 1.4-litre turbocharged hits 60mph in under nine seconds, with good economy and emissions and there is also a 155PS Abarth version. Rather than diesels with their relatively large weight, this has to be the way forward for superminis.

The Sporting also handles beautifully – in this guise it is a both a practical and rapid supermini – though the ride quality and refinement can be wearing at times.

USED CAR ROUND-UP: OUR PICK FROM A KEY SECTOR

HONDA JAZZ

HONDA'S Jazz definitely hit the right note and won a host of awards. Beware early examples, which were too firmly sprung for some tastes, but later (Mark 1) models are good to drive and better to ride in while retaining the car's versatile rear seating. The range lacks a diesel, but offers a continuously variable automatic gearbox (CVT) option with pre-selected positions that are reassuring to use, while bringing all the benefits of a CVT auto's better fuel consumption.

NISSAN NOTE

NISSAN threw the rule book away with the Note to create a partial replacement for its long-running yet unloved Almera family hatchback, while also acquiring a small MPV with a more compact stance. The result is a versatile, roomy and manageable small car with lots of clever features including a reversible boot floor that covers a spacious lower compartment. The Note's engines are also good news, with a Renault-supplied 1.5-litre turbodiesel the most desirable for mixing power with economy.

VAUXHALL MERIVA

NOT as influential as Vauxhall's bigger Zafira perhaps, but the Meriva is a popular used buy with families seeking a manageable yet capacious family holdall. It drives and handles well and offers a higher driving position than equivalent family hatchbacks and estates, without being ridiculously lofty. It also has Vauxhall's versatile 'Flex' system interior features, reliability and a good range of engines including diesels and, best of all, used prices have eased dramatically with greater supply.

Administration Manager

£20,305–£26,274 pa pro rata

An administration role that lets you use your creativity!

Based in Ramsgate, East Kent, Thanet Children's Participation Project provides short break play schemes and Saturday clubs for children and young people with disabilities in the districts of Ashford and Shepway.

You'll provide innovative, high quality business administration, which enables an excellent standard of service to children, young people, their families and our partners.

We're looking for a true all-rounder with good office administration experience, knowledge of financial management and reporting, strong IT skills and the ability to build relationships at all levels. You'll also help to produce marketing materials and presentations and will need relevant qualifications or experience equivalent to A Level/NVQ Level 3 standard. Hours for this role will be 25, to a maximum of 30 per week.

For an informal discussion about this role, please contact Ann Rayment on 01843 596659.

As well as a strong commitment to your development, we offer generous holidays, contributory stakeholder pension, childcare vouchers and flexible working.

Kent League Division Four

Addington Village 1st XI v Gravesend RF 1st XI

ADDINGTON Village extended their lead at the top of Division Four with their 14th win from 17 games this season.

Addington have dominated Division Four this season and are edging towards finishing the entire campaign unbeaten.

The home side won the toss and elected to bat first. Village were in a bit of trouble at the start of the innings after losing their opener Mark Rimmer for a duck. The runs were hard to come by with Ben Buet (27), Will Jeffery (12), Neil Scott (6) and Duncan Brown (13) all struggling with the bat.

Mat Bruton and Jack Sopp put the innings back on track, but Addington slumped to 184 all out.

However, Addington secured yet another win with a fine display from bowlers Dan Walton and Joseph Whitecross. The pair gave Gravesend's batsmen a hard time as they took nine wickets between them. Walton breezed through the top order with only Sandeep Singh (27) providing resistance.

Bruton stopped the flow of runs by taking the wicket of Giagan Deep Singh five runs short of his half-century. The wicket proved to be the turning point of the game, as Whitecross ripped through the tail, which left Gravesend all out for 141 in the 38th over.

LOCAL CRICKET ROUND-UP*INVICTA LEAGUE PREMIER DIVISION

Headcorn 1st XI v Mersham Sports 1st XI

JAMES Baker's half-century was unable to prevent Headcorn from a 68-run defeat at the hands of Mersham Sports.

Mersham put themselves in a strong position to challenge for the win after reaching 187 for 5 from 45 overs. Darren Pugh top scored with 80.

Headcorn's reply started slowly and it was Baker who rescued the innings with a knock of 56. However, the tail were dismissed cheaply which left Headcorn all out with six overs remaining.

KENT FEEDER LEAGUE EAST 1A

Yalding 1st XI v Westgate-on-Sea

CHRIS Flint and Jason Miekle stared in a three-wicket win for Westgate-on-Sea which left Yalding rooted to the bottom of the league.

Flint and Miekle were destructive with the ball taking nine wickets to help dismiss Yalding for 124. Scott Walker top scored for Yalding with 49.

Walker was impressive with the ball and gave Yalding a glimmer of hope by taking five wickets. However, Westgate held firm and managed to clinch the win after only 34 overs.

Davis is rallying together for next season

FUTURE: Stefan Davis hopes to fare better in 2010

STEFAN Davis is already looking to next season as accidents, coupled with a lack of funding, ended his Ford Fiesta Sporting trophy title hopes.

The Aylesford-based rally driver has had a tough season racing in the Ford Fiesta class of the British Rally Championship, with a number of mechanical difficulties forcing Davis into retirements. After wrecking his car in an accident at the Isle of Man International rally in July and a lack of funds, Davis has written off the 2009 season with a round of the series remaining.

He started the season well by almost winning the opening round in March, but after this latest accident he believes it is time to look towards 2010.

He said: "It has been a tough year. We started off fairly strong, but after the accident in the Isle of Man where we rolled the car, that ended my chances of winning the championship. There are still more events to go, but funds are tight and if I can't win the championship I feel I should start looking towards next year."

Davis revealed he is hoping to return to the British Rally Championship next season in the four wheeled drive class.

He said: "I am desperate to get back racing in the four wheeled drive category. Hopefully I can sort something out to get back there. There are a lot of things happening in the sport and hopefully it will pick up. Rallying is where I want to stay."

Smalling in European campaign call-up

FORMER Maidstone United defender Chris Smalling has been called up to the England under-21 squad for the European Championship qualifying campaign.

The 19-year-old, who joined Premier League side Fulham from the Stones last summer, made his England under-21 debut earlier this month, playing half an hour in a friendly 0-0 draw against Holland.

Smalling, a former Chatham Grammar schoolboy, has impressed England under-21 boss Stuart Pearce enough to earn a recall for England's trip to face Macedonia on Friday and Greece next Tuesday.

The central defender has rapidly risen through the ranks in his first season in professional football at Fulham. After captaining Fulham reserves, Smalling made his first-team debut on the final day of last season against Everton.

Smalling's former club, Maidstone United, received a donation of appreciation from Fulham last month.

If selected for Friday's under-21 game against Macedonia, Smalling could line up alongside Manchester City defender Micah Richards.

MAIDSTONE United produced their best display of the season to date as they ended Canvey Island's unbeaten start to the campaign on Monday.

In contrast to their home form, Maidstone have been effective on the road so far this season and are yet to taste defeat.

They scored with their first attack of the game, when Nathan Paul's cross was deflected to Pinnock, who scored from six yards.

The visitors had chances to extend their lead but the win owed much to the referee, who failed to spot a blatant handball from Ashley Ulph in the second half.

On Saturday, the Stones fell to a 2-1 home defeat against Tooting & Mitcham, leaving the club still searching for their first home win of the season.

Pouton, who has left the club to join rivals Sutton United. The former Dover Athletic and Gillingham midfielder was replaced by Danny Stubbs. Making his debut for the Stones was former Ramsgate and Herne Bay striker Aaron Firth, who joined last week.

The home side struggled to get going in the game and Tooting & Mitcham were on top for the majority of the first half. Despite the visitors creating numerous chances, it was Maidstone who opened the scoring. Four minutes before the break Ashley Ulph combined with Stubbs and his low shot flew past goalkeeper Dave King.

The second half saw Maidstone turn out an improved performance, but they couldn't find a way past King. Two quick fire goals from Paul Vines and Aaron Goode late on condemned Maidstone to a 2-1 defeat.

Stones joint-manager Alan Walker was disappointed with the performance from his side and felt the lack of experience was a telling factor in the game.

He said: "I was disappointed with the whole game to be fair, but it was a fair result. We came into half-time with the lead from our first attack.

"I thought we improved without a shadow of a doubt in the second half, but for me it was men against boys."

"If you look at the starting line-up, we had five teenagers in the side and it showed. We have got a lack of strength in depth in our squad but that is how it's going to be this season."
